Coffee County Citizens Better Its Best

Coffee County raised a total of $1,662.01 in the 1969 crusade of the American Cancer Society, with the Alabama Division again "lettering its best" by raising $429,000.

Jimmy Hornsby of Elba was chairman of the crusade for this county. State Crusade Chairman Charles H. Payne of Birmingham expressed appreciation to county crusade chairmen, leaders and workers for their leadership and work in the crusade, and to Alabama citizens, business, industry, and institutions who contributed to the American Cancer Society.

The signals are: 1. Unusual bleeding or discharge; 2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; 3. A sore that does not heal; 4. Change in bowel or bladder habits; 5. Hoarseness or cough; 6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; and 7. Change in size or color of a wart or mole.

If your signal lasts longer than two weeks, go to your doctor to learn if it means cancer.

WORTH TALKING ABOUT

It has become unfashionable to say this; it may be embarrassing to hear it; but I believe that America is the most lovely and livable of all nations. I believe, that Americans are the kindest and most generous of people. I believe that there is no other place in America, or repairing and renewing America; and that even the humblest of us are born with a privilege that no one else, anywhere else, the America.

MACK AND I have an anniversary coming up Sunday but I have an idea it will not be remembered as long as the football games go on. Weekends at our house is constant football. He has even threatened to set two televisions up side by side with a radio somewhere in hearing distance to see and hear reports of football games.

Some he is interested in are not put on TV so he has to hear those games which is the only time in the year he will even acknowledge there is such a thing as a radio.

He can be looking at a game all by himself but if you're in hearing distance you would think there must be a room full of folks. I think some of these football teams have him for the coach he is so good at telling the team how to play the game. He will yell at them (as if they could hear him) "do as I say, so, you'll have it to do on the third down anyway", and 99 times out of a hundred that is how it happens.

But the funniest thing of all was a couple of weeks ago. He was in the kitchen looking at a game and got so excited about something that happened he fell out of his chair and the chair fell on top of him. How he could turn that chair over I'll never know for it is a large and heavy overstuffed chair to the dinette table. But he landed on the floor and missed the play.

I can come along and he'll start telling me waving his hands in all directions, "wait a minute - I must see this play".

Now that goes on from early Saturday afternoon thru Sunday afternoon. In the meantime I entertain myself the best I can. Usually he is so glad if I leave the house for that gives him the whole place and he keeps the television on in the sitting room and in the kitchen and he runs from one to the other to see different games. He claims he likes black and white better but I notice he looks at color television, also. Sunday afternoon Sonya, age 13, my youngest granddaughter, came over and was I shocked. She is just about as big a football fan as Mack. He was in the kitchen and had not turned on the colored set so she marches in to see the game he wasn't watching. So I listened to her yelling in the living room and Mack in the kitchen. I was caught in the middle. Soon she yelled to me "Grandma, the score is, I'll say, 13-3". I'm not sure what it's up to me. Usually he is glad if I leave the house for that gives him the whole place and he keeps the television on in the sitting room and in the kitchen and he runs from one and she had gone to sleep looking at the game. During the halftime performance I tried to wake her to see the show and she said without even opening her eyes "I don't want to see that old band I want to see the next one". There wasn't a next one. The game was over when she awakened. I asked her for the meanness of it how the game came out and she shyly said she didn't know. In the meantime Mack was asleep for a while in a chair in the kitchen but he awoke in time to know how his game ended.

Monday night he was going to hear the president's speech but went to sleep in his chair before he came on and slept through the whole thing and the program was back on when he awoke. But you just turn the television off during that time and he will, and so will Sonya, wake up immediately. I have warned him that we're going somewhere Sunday but I have an idea who will win that bout - he and the football games.

NOVEMBER 11 is Armistice Day, as it is now designated. Veterans Day, Armistice Day is the anniversary of the end of World War I in 1918 and while since 1954, it has been celebrated as Veterans Day, its purpose remains the same. It is a day devoted to honoring the millions of men who have given their lives and their services to their country in the armed forces. Originally it was a day of speechmaking and re-surging patriotism. Every family displayed the American flag with pride and humble gratitude for all that it represented - the freedom and security of our homes, the protection of the individual against oppression from whatever source and a guarantee of respect for the U. S. by all nations.

There are those who are inclined to view the flag and patriotic observances as anachronisms and somewhat juvenile. These cynics may have had their eyes opened to the fact that the flag is far from a dead symbol when they looked about them following the death of former president Eisenhower. Flags flew from millions of homes and public buildings. Mr. Eisenhower symbolized the greatness of a nation, just as does Veterans Day.

On such occasions displaying the flag is an instinctive act of all good citizens.

"SOME WAG once described the art of taxation as 'plucking the most feathers from a goose with the least amount of quacking.' Taxation has long since ceased to become an art. Today it is a contest to see who gets to the goose first, and who can yank out the most feathers; to hell with the quacking. Taxing authorities are not only de-feathering the poor tax goose, they are rendering it wing from wing, leg from leg, soon, at this rate, the head will come off. There will be no more quacking to annoy public officials; there will be no more gooses," says the Lake Worth (Fla.) Herald.
